Whose account? · C / D

Fictional particular-person meaning and sharing. No actual family, identity, attendance or consensus supplied.

C · KEMI'S OWN WORDS

“I am Kemi. Finishing the shared book matters to me because we can read our made-up stories together. I looked at the display on Story Day Three. These are my own words.”

D · ARLO'S SHARING ACCOUNT

“I am Arlo. I looked at the display with my cousin Niv on Story Day Three. I have not spoken for other families or visitors.”

PERSON'S OWN MEANING

PARTICULAR SHARING

KEEP SOURCE FLAPS SEPARATE

One person's words are not everyone's. Other people and actual family breadth stay open.

Original teaching material · SubjectNest by NeuroForgeIO Pty Ltd
© 2026 · CC BY 4.0 · exact text/tactile alternatives in pack